Washington, Dec. 18 -The nomina-tion of Hon, Stephen B. Etkins yesterday by the President to be Secretary of War in ninew of Mrs. Proctor, has eausage some little disappointment among those Republican Senators who were pushing other candidates for the war portfolio. These are some Western Senators who thought the excellent record of Gen, Grant, the Acting Secretary of War, r Minnesota man, should have been recognized and some New England Senaturn who had set their hearts on the ucmination of ex-Gov. Chency, of New Hampshire

Senator Chandler expresses his disappointment frankly, but will vote for the confirmation of the West Virginian. "New Hampshire is very much disap pointed," he said this morning. were earnest in our support of Gov. Cheney, and we believe his would have been the best appointment. We are still of that opinion. Mr. Elkins will make a good Surstay of War; his executive audity is undoubted. While the appointment surpressed as a little, we have no complaints to make; we were not decrived in any way. We thought Gov. Cheney's chitices were good because the fresident did not say he would not be the man. Mr. Edities a a good appointes, but New Hump-shire is, nevertheless, very much disap-

Senator Hiscock thinks the nomina tion of hir. Estins is a good thing. He said: "He will make an admirable Secretary. West Virginia is very much Recretary. West Virginia is very much pleased over the nomination.

Senator Fanikner said when he heard of the nomination. The nomination must be very gratifying to the Republicans of West Virginia. Mr. Etkins has taken a very active part in the political campaigns of the State, and he has surrounted himself with a large and influential body of friends. The appointment of Nathan Goff as Judge and the nomination of Etkins as Secretary of War, coming just prior to the opening of the Presidential year, indicates the importance West Virginia has in the opinion of the Republican leaders."

Senator Kanna also looked at the opinion of the Republican leaders."

Sunttor Kenna also looked at the nomination through political glasses. He even went so far as to put in the field an unlooked for presidential combination. "They're pooling the issue," was the remark. "This nomination
